Singam 2 (English: The Professional) is a 2010 Indian Tamil action film directed by Atlee and produced by Dhanapal. It features Ajith Kumar and Shriya Saran in the lead roles, while R. Madhavan, Nayanthara and Mandira Bedi play supporting roles. The film's music composed by A. R. Rahman, with lyrics by Pa. Vijay. This film is the sequel to Singam (1999). The film was released on April 10, 2010 across Tamil Nadu and Karnataka to positive critical and commercial response. The film was dubbed into Telugu as Nuthan with the same cast and crew. The film begins with an introduction of a young lady (Shriya Saran) who is in love with a cook named Sivakumar (Ajith Kumar). Her family is unhappy with her marriage and give her an ultimatum to run away from home. She reaches a hotel and stays there until Sivakumar comes to meet her, but before he could do so, he is kidnapped and forced to play his part in a criminal plot. Meanwhile when they reach their destination, the family of the young woman discovers that she is not their daughter anymore. She is actually Nadhiya's sister, Nadhiya (Shriya Saran), who was an orphan adopted by the family as a child, loves her brother (Sivakumar) as his own sister. She wants to save him from the criminal, but she does not know he is involved in it. Meanwhile, Sivakumar also discovers that he is being forced to commit a crime and he tries to escape only to be caught. The truth is revealed later that Nadhiya's younger sister has died sometime ago, and Nadhiya decides to help him reveal the truth. They find out that her abductor's intentions are not money or revenge but destroying the family name by framing Sivakumar for various crimes. Later Nadhiya's family is also informed about the truth. To settle the score with the criminal, Sivakumar decides to take revenge on him by playing his part in his criminal acts and then escaping at the last minute. Finally he manages to destroy the criminal's criminal empire with support from Nadhiya.

The music was composed by A R Rahman. Lyricists were Pa. Vijay & Kabilan & Director Atlee selected "Oru Yaathrayilae" as a soundtrack for this film. The audio rights of "Oru Yaathrayilae" were acquired by Sony Music India.
